

Task 12 - Build Your Day 2 Personal AI Workflow Plan

60-Second Pitch

I will use AI to automate my meeting summaries, professional emails and technical documentation. For meeting notes, I will use an IPO workflow and a structured prompt. For emails, I will use a professional CRTFC email template. For documentation, I will use a structured documentation prompt. This can save me several hours each week and make my work more organized. I will always review names, dates, technical details and private information before I use the AI output.

Q1

Meeting and client summaries will save me the most time because I can turn raw notes into a ready summary quickly.

Q2

The most surprising result was how much better the answer became when I added a clear role, format and constraints.

Q3

Constraint engineering was the hardest because I need to think carefully about what AI should and should not do.

Q4

The first workflow I will implement is converting meeting notes into structured minutes and action items.

Q5

How can I safely connect AI to my real work tools without exposing confidential company data?
